

VOWEL TEST

Underline the correct vowels in each line, according to the specifically assigned sound.

LONG VOWELS

ɑ: - The army master asked the fathers pardon.

ɔ: - The tortoise called the tall mortal awful.

ɜ: - Her skirt was pert which flirted with her shirt.

u: - You flew too soon from shoe to moon.

i: - She sealed the meat in three pieces feeding the steaming fleas.

SHORT VOWELS

ə - Isabel don't contradict the Londoner, understand?

ɪ - It's beginning to filter into the split killing the filling.

ɒ - Lotty and Dotty got hot on the pott Olive and Spot did not.

e - Get steadily ready to tread through the lead eventually entering the bed ʌ - Have you money for the butter and honey?

æ - Gather that hat and that mat and flatter Andrea Samantha Panders.

ʊ - Look, put that book back in the nook you hooded crook.

DIPHTHONGS (TWO VOWELS SOUNDS TOGETHER)

ɪə - 'Hear, hear,' cheers the peer, sheer fear from the beer in his ear.

eə - The fair pair shared caring and wearing the scarce mare's chair.

ʊə - The dour gourd during security endured the curious moor.

eɪ - The ape made the lady waste the eighth veil weighing a great steak.

aɪ - Either try to dye the bright cider or bite the high light fighting mightily.

ɔɪ - The boy's voice and oils the coiled point in the void.

əʊ - So the old folks at home toasted the soapy and moulting toads.

ασ - How about shouting down the town house allowing a mouse to flounder.